

NOTHING LASTS FOREVER BY DEVON JOHNSTON

I'm a big believer nothing lasts forever
No matter the form
I know that it's possible to stay together
But its not the norm.

Things fade, love dies
People stray, hearts cry
Call me a cynic all you like
I am content, for It was never my intent to be a cynic.

I have had many friends
And its weird to think
How the conversation ends
In only a blink.
No goodbyes, lies or cries.
Just something to nothing.

I've never felt "not okay"
With cutting ties
So comfortable walking away
As the friendship dies
And I tried it with you.
Or more life did it for me
It's what I do
Like the friends all before me

And yet you're still here?
By best friend
of more than 10 years.
How is this possible?
It's shockable!
How someone so responsible
Meet someone irresponsible
And together became unstoppable.

You stood with pride
As You taught me to say no
And I calm your angry side
When i see you're gonna blow
We are opposites
We are balanced
Nothing has split
this platonic dalliance
And I love you

So even if I always believe that this will one day end Thankyou for proving me wrong by staying my true best friend
